Hickman Was Murdered,

The investigation of the death of Thomas Hickman whose body was found on the Wabash railroad at Monticello, closed on Friday The coroner's verdict of the jury was that Thomas Hickman came to his death by a shot from a pistol in the hands of a person or persons unknown to the jury The case is a very mysterious one, and there is no doubt, from the evidence, that Hickman was murdered and his body placed on the railroad tracks to hide the crime.

BIG DAY IN DECATUR

Celebration of July Fourth at Riverside Park.

MODERN WOODMEN AND THEIR FRIENDS JOIN IN A PICNIC

Addresses by Hon Horace Clark, Hon J. A Brown and Dr Swallow—Music and Brilliant Fireworks

From Tuesday's Daily

Decatur spread herself yesterday in a a patriotic celebration of the anniversary of National Independence The day was observed under the management of the Modern Woodmen Picnic Association of the Fourteenth District, with members of Decatur Camp 141 as active managers The programme was carried out about as arranged There was a great crowd in the city 10 000 to 15 000 people visiting Riverside Park, where the exercises were held in the afternoon

THE STREET PARADE

At about 10 o'clock in the forenoon the street parade was witnessed in the city It was an imposing affair in the following order

Platoon of Police
Chief Marshal W H Elwood
Woodmen Reception Committee
Goodman's Band
Decatur Camp M W A 141
Laserly Camp
Martial Band
Decatur Guards
Dunham Post 141, G A R
Banners of Various Labor Union Organizations
Patriotic Sons of America
Labor Union Organizations
Carriages Containing Choir Speakers, Mayor and Members of City Council

THE ADDRESSES

It was intended to have one address at the park at 10 30 and the reading of the Declaration of Independence by Rev M M Goodwin prayer by Rev C E Torrey, and music by the band and quartette Misses Knieper and McKenzie and F E Bunn and Bert Gher but because the band had been taken to the depot after the parade to meet Dr Swallow and the 1600 from Springfield, a postponement of the speaking was taken until 2 o'clock in the afternoon At that hour the pavilion was crowded and the addresses were heard Rev J A F King offered prayer and the choir sang

The chief oration was by Hon Horace Clark of Mattoon, who traced the history of the country from the colonial days down to the present It was an instructive address and was heard with interest

Hon John A Brown, president of the Woodmen Picnic Association, by request had prepared a eulogy on Senator M W Mathews which he delivered It will be printed in full in the Republican tomorrow

Dr Frank Swallow, of Valley Falls Kansas head physician of the Modern Woodmen of America, delivered an address which was highly humorous and caught the crowd He had a good deal to say about the great state of Kansas, and the teaching of the Modern Woodmen order It was his advice that no girl should marry a man unless he could show that he had a Modern Woodmen life insurance certificate.

At the close of the speaking the Modern Woodmen picnic association met on the stage and elected officers as follows President, J A Edminston, of Clinton vice president, W E Pease, of Decatur secretary, C W McComb, of Heyworth treasurer J G Holderman, of Bethany executive board, A F Ross, Decatur Byron Cheever, of Lovington, C L Bishop of McLean county, E Niles, of Bement, and W D Story of Dewitt county

THE RACES

The river races and contests afforded no end of fun There was lively competition in each class and there were first and second cash premiums for all winners Thousands of people witnessed the races and carried clay away with them on their clothes The results were as follows Swimming match, 100 yards, Willard Thayer first, Ed Thayer second tub race 100 yards, Mike Rafferty first, Harry Bell second barrel race, 100 yards, Frank Hamilton first, Joe Godett second greased pole walk, $5 prize at the end, Frank Odor got the prize

The steamers and boats were going all day and not an accident occurred, and the natatorium did a rushing business, with Prof Harrison in charge Jimmy Veale took his first swim in the nat. It was the center of attraction for everybody The musical merry go-round had all it could do, ditto the refreshment stands, the tent photo gallery and the dime museum It took three policemen to get the people to the right and left in going over the bridge. All afternoon Goodman's Band regaled the crowd with music, and toward the shady part of the afternoon down came the platform mixing all together in a heap but fortunately resulting in no serious injury There were picnic parties galore in the park, and a brilliant display of fireworks after 8 o'clock, with a specialty performance by the Nickelodeons

FIREWORKS.

At 8 30 at night the Woodmen fireworks display came off in the city from the top of the tabernacle building, in charge of F B Mueller It was witnessed by the whole town and everybody else It was a continuous firing of rockets, wheels, large and small pieces, all bright and beautiful—so much of it that many in the crowd grew weary and went home The special pieces were grand They were "Welcome, "July 4th," the American flag and "Good Night There were no accidents at night, except such as were caused by a couple of smart young men who went about the street throwing nigger chasers' where women and children were standing. Children had their clothing ruined and one young lady had a $10 hat destroyed—all "for fun

George R Steele for Circuit Clerk

The announcement of the candidacy of George R Steele for the nomination for circuit clerk appears to day in another part of the paper George R Steele is so well known in Macon county that it is unnecessary for the Republican to introduce him to its readers He is known as a Republican of the straightest sect A Republican who has never faltered or been backward about helping the party whenever and wherever he could A Republican who would command, as a candidate for the office he seeks, the entire vote of the party, and and who, if nominated will be elected He is known as one well qualified for such an office—methodical, painstaking, accommodating and strictly reliable in every way, and the Republican feels free to add that his nomination by the Republicans of this county would be no mistake

Fate of C F Wilcox

Between Peru and Kellers, Ind, Sunday morning during a heavy rain storm, engine 174 went into a washout and five men were killed Those on the engine were C F Wilcox, Wabash trainmaster at Andrews, formerly in G C Kinsman's office, a Mason, a son of a veteran and a man of a family, Harvey Dunlap, of Andrews superintendent of bridges and buildings, Charles Helm, of Peru, foreman of bridge carpenters, George W Shorey, of Ft Wayne engineer, and Frank Mohr, fireman All these officials were on the engine to test it and to look after the condition of the bridge The heavy rains had washed out a solid stone culvert and into the rushing stream the engine plunged carrying with it a number of freight cars Wilcox body was not recovered until 1 30 Sunday after noon He was well known in Decatur

The County Bridge

Saturday afternoon the contract was let by the special committee from the Board of Supervisors and the Highway Commissioners at the office of Town Clerk Nicholls for the improvement of the old county bridge across the Sangamon river, east of the waterworks known as the Grub bridge There were six different bidders and all of the bids were close The contract was awarded to J F McDonald whose bid was $2 657 Commissioner D A Malbt and Supervisor A Barber were appointed to look after the work and see that the letter of the contract is observed The approaches to the bridge are to be raised and built on piles and the bridge is to be put in first class shape The county will pay half the bill

CRUSHED BY A STREET CAR.

The Shocking Accident which Befel the Only Child of Mr. and Mrs. W T. Roberts.

Other Mishaps on July Fourth With Guns and Fire Crackers

To many in Decatur Monday the enjoyment of July 4th was marred beyond expression by the awful accident to Tenbrook Roberts, aged two and a half years, only child of Mr and Mrs W T Roberts, which occurred on the Edward street branch of the City Electric Street Railway, between 11 and 12 o'clock in the forenoon The Roberts family reside at 950 North Edward, on the east side of the street Tenbrook was on the boulevard on the west side of the street playing with several children in the neighborhood Mrs Roberts was in the house, and Mr Roberts was down town in his grain office The little boy was quite active for his age, quick to run and move Tom Lord with car No 20 was going north up the hill and when near the Roberts dwelling, Tenbrook suddenly ran from among his playmates to cross the track in front of the moving car Lord saw the boy running in a diagonal direction to cross ahead of the car He at once turned off the power and set the brake, at the same time leaning over to catch the child by the hair or arm in the hope of saving him from injury The child had passed over the west rail, but tripped through fright or some cause and fell on the east rail, the front wheels passing over the poor child's body, crushing the limbs from the left hip down in a slanting direction over the right knee Part of the child's body was under the rear wheels when the car stopped Had the power been turned on death would have been instant, as the wheels would have been charged with electricity Mr Lord, the few people on the car, W H. Stewart who saw the accident, and various other parties rushed to the scene and soon the mangled form was in the home where the agony of the parents was pitiful to behold Many were the tears of sympathy which fell as kind friends tendered their aid and in a way endeavored to lighten the shock to the devoted mother and father Only a few minutes before the accident Tenbrook was at his mother's side happy and light hearted He ran out to resume his play, only to be brought back fatally crushed by the cruel wheels of the car The motorman did all in his power to avert the catastrophe He did not anticipate the sudden act of the child, and was taken wholly by surprise to notice the little boy running toward the car Little Tenbrook was the pet of everybody who knew him and the pride of the neighborhood He was particularly bright and made friends rapidly Dr Walston, Dr O R Allen, Dr Catto, Dr. Jones and Dr Minick were quickly summoned to the house, and Dr Catto, the family physician took charge of the case The examination showed that the left hip and the limbs had been crushed It was decided not to amputate the limbs It was arranged to perform the operation this morning, but on further examination it was decided not to use the knife The bones were so badly crushed that the operation would do no good, only cause further suffering

The sufferings of the child were ended at 12 05 p m to day when it passed away

No time has yet been fixed for the funeral The parents of Mrs Roberts who reside in Vermont have telegraphed that they cannot be present at the obsequies The funeral will occur on Thursday, hour not stated

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved parents in their sorrow It is a severe blow to them greater than words can express

STRUCK BY A CAR

Frank Ogee aged 65 a woodchopper from the vicinity of Reas bridge came in band, was standing on the pavement at the Powers shoe store corner on North Water street in the forenoon He desired to pass over to the opposite side of the street Two cars were passing One was coming up from the depot and the other was going north They passed in front of Bartholomew's store, and both cars were under control, the bells clanging Mr Ogee stepped out and got in front of the down car which threw him upon the pavement dragging him some distance by the guard. His right arm was badly crushed and the old man received a number of bad bruises Chas Hamsher, the motorman, stopped the car as quickly as possible, and Ogee was carried into Blaine's drug store, from which place he was taken to St Mary's hospital The arm was amputated by Drs. Catto and Jones. He will recover Mr. Ogee, in talking about the accident, did not blame anybody He said he was a little deaf, and that he thought he was exercising special care in watching the receding car. He did not see the other car and had no idea at the time that he was in danger Mr Ogee made his home with Mr Walker in Oakley township

OTHER ACCIDENTS

While handling an old musket at the corner of South Jackson and East Decatur streets, Charles Sonders, aged 25, son of James Sonders, the dairyman, lost his left hand by the explosion of the gun Drs J D Wheeler and J. H Clark amputated the hand above the wrist.

Ernest Harkness and brother were playing with a home made cannon and the "blasted thing" went off before they could step back and Ernest badly burned the fingers on both hands and his brother receiving a large quantity of powder in his face.

A plumber in a saloon on North Water street had the tips of his fingers badly scorched.

A small boy got peppered with powder in the face, and it is reported that he will lose one eye. His name could not be learned

At Riverside Park a reckless party put a cannon cracker in a glass bottle. When it exploded pieces of the glass flew into the crowd injuring several parties One little girl had a piece of the glass driven into her cheek

J P Theiss had one of his hands badly burnt yesterday He had a cannon fire cracker in his hand behind him and some body came up and lighted it Before the cracker could be dropped it exploded and burnt Theiss hand severely, besides injuring another man

J M Bower for Circuit Clerk

In this issue of the Republican appears the formal announcement of Mr J M Bower as a candidate for circuit clerk, subject to the action of the Republican county convention Mr Bower scarcely requires introduction in a newspaper to the people of Decatur and Macon county He has been a resident of the county for a period of 37 years, and being active in church work and having been engaged in various enterprises, notably that of the publication of the best city directory Decatur has ever had he enjoys a wide personal acquaintance in the community

Mr Bower is an excellent accountant, is methodical in his habits, and would make a genial and excellent clerk He has always been an active Republican, contributing his share toward party successes in the past and is always ready to put his shoulder to the political wheel The nomination of Mr Bower for circuit clerk would be hailed with pleasure by his hosts of friends and his name would add strength to the ticket

THE END

Death of Ex Ald George Stare at the Age of 63 Years

From Wednesday's Daily

One of the oldest citizens of Decatur, George Stare, died last evening at his home on North Franklin street, aged 63 years, death resulting from paralysis. Deceased was a native of York county, Pa, where he was born in 1829. He came to Ohio in 1850 and returned to Pennsylvania in 1851. He started west again, going to St. Paul, Minn, in 1852 He came to Decatur in 1853, and located here permanently in 1854. March 6, 1856, Barbara Barnett became his wife, and the widow with five children survive. The children are William Stare, of Mendota, Mrs Henry Kreidler, Mrs Henry D. Schenck, and Miss Jeannette Stare, all of Decatur, and Mrs E Miller, of California In addition to his children there survive him his brothers, Moses Stare, of Decatur, and Elias Stare, of Sibley and his sisters Mrs H Cain, Mrs Knipp Miss Nancy Stare, Mrs T. Z Blume, of Decatur, Mrs J Markley of Sangamon Mrs L B Aboltz, of St Louis, and Mrs. Higgins, of Pawnee, Ill

During his long residence in Decatur Mr Stare was prominently identified with every worthy enterprise He and his brother John, who died some time ago, were associated together in the planing mill business, and near the building, some years ago, the brothers made a fruitless search for natural gas, sinking $8000 or $9000 in the undertaking Mr Stare prospered in business and left a handsome competency for his family Politically Mr Stare was a Republican He served in the city council as an alderman from the first ward in 1873-4, when Martin Forstmeyer and Franklin Priest served as mayors He was an official member of Grace M E church, being one of the original members of Stapp's Chapel He had a Sabbath School class. In every respect Mr Stare was a good man and a good citizen

EVERYBODY KNOWS

That the season has been backward and that consequently sales in all lines in the way of seasonable merchandise have been backward. This is only another way of saying that times in the shoe trade have been dull. We may have dull times but we will not have sales missing at our house. We may be unable to reap the profits which are the legitimate expectation of every standard shoe house in good times, but we will sell. That is the cardinal principle of our business. We may be disappointed as to profits, but we must and will sell more every year than we did the year preceding. We know that we have advantages over all competitors in the matter of getting goods, know that we can own them cheaper, that we can sell them for the same price that the ordinary retailer buys them for and yet make a small margin. We are not asking for anything more now. Better come in and buy. We have the goods and the prices to make the sales if you can be induced to buy anything in shoes.

CHICAGO'S BIG SHOW

An agent of the Turkish government is on his way to Chicago to superintend the construction of the Ottoman pavilion and a Turkish village for the World's Fair. Accompanying him are native masons who will build the pavilion.

Again the cable has announced that Emperor William of Germany has decided to visit the World's Fair at Chicago next year. This time the Allgemaine Zeitung, a leading paper of Munich, furnishes the information, and claims that it is authentic

The Kentucky building at the World's Fair will be a typical representation of a southern colonial mansion, one of the distinctive features of which is great pillared porches or verandas. Exclusive of these porches the building will measure about 75 by 90 feet.

A large portion of the agricultural exhibit which Illinois will make at the World's Fair will be selected from the exhibits made at the state fair at Peoria the coming fall. In order to encourage the farmers to make especially fine exhibits of farm, orchard and garden products the State Board of Agriculture which has in charge the preparations of the State's World's Fair exhibit, has offered a number of cash prizes aggregating $6,500

Italy has asked for more space in the Fine Arts building for the fine art section of the Italian exhibit at the World's Fair. U. S. Minister Porter, in indorsing the request says that the artists of Rome are making a united and earnest effort to exhibit the best productions of paintings and sculpture that can be obtained in Rome, Florence, Milan, Venice and Naples. There is in Rome, as in the other principal cities of Italy, the keenest desire to send to Chicago the best productions of Italian art. Minister Porter, in writing Chief Walker Fearn, of the Foreign Affairs department, and Chief Ives, of the Fine Arts department, expresses the belief that the fine arts exhibit to be made at the Columbian Exposition will far exceed anything ever attempted by Italy at previous international expositions.

Insurance Business in Illinois.

Part two of the twenty-third annual insurance report was issued from the state auditor's office yesterday. It deals with life and accident insurance, and the figures, except those relating to regular life insurance, have already been made public. There are now thirty-six life-insurance companies incorporated under the laws of this state and twenty-two incorporated under the laws of other states transacting the business of life or accident insurance on the co-operative or assessment plan that have filed their statements with the auditor and are authorized to do business in this state. The following are the grand totals reported by the thirty-six companies referred to:

Admitted assets	$765,315,022
Liabilities	673 808 652
Surplus, not taking capital stock and tontine accumulations into account,	91,504,369
Total Income in 1890	196,325,968
Expenditures	133,898,766
Surplus of income over expenditures,	62,426,201

During the year 292,745 policies were issued and renewed and $892,703,191 of new insurances effected thereby. One hundred and fifty-seven thousand nine hundred policies were terminated, representing $497,191,971. The whole number of policies in force Dec. 31, 1890 was 1,201,625, covering $3,573,369,911 in insurance. In this state during the year 17,753 life insurance policies were issued, covering $53,172,386 in insurance, and the citizens of this state paid out during that time in premiums on such policies $7,242,526 and received $2,885,591 in payment of losses.

State News.

William Hurley, an old and respected citizen of Danville, has been arrested for arson.

Mr. Abram Pratt, an old resident of Bloomington, died at his home at the age of 75 years.

Harvesting wheat has begun at Hillsboro, and the yield is estimated to be as great as last year.

The washouts on the Illinois Central interfered with the success of the reunion of the veterans of the Black Hawk war at Lena.

The state board of agriculture has decided to award $6,500 in prizes for the display of farm, orchard and garden products at the state fair, to be held at Peoria September 26-30.

An Officer's Tragic Death.

A lieutenant of the Twenty-fourth regiment of Chasseurs, named Taverne, met with a most tragic death near the port of Nice yesterday. His horse, a big, fiery roan, which had been very little ridden, became restive shortly after leaving headquarters. While passing the well known Chateau Smith the horse took fright and bolted down an incline. Some octroi officers saw this, but were unable to arrest his progress. The officer managed to steer the animal around the Nice port, but coming to a rapid curve in the road at a spot known as Raban Capen he lost all control. The horse rushed madly at a wall, cleared it, and both horse and rider were dashed over the rocks into the sea below.

The admiral of the Mediterranean squadron sent a steam launch, four boats and fifty men with grapnels to try and find the bodies. They found a key on the rocks, which has been identified as that of the officer's chamber in the barracks, and some hair of the horse stuck to the rocks. Up to the present, however, the bodies have not been recovered. They have probably been taken out to sea by currents. M. De Freycinet, who is now in Nice, visited the spot to make inquiries. The unfortunate officer, who was only thirty years of age, was most popular.—Pall Mall Gazette.

He's At It

The campaign liar has already started out and will do what he can to induce men to get off the job of which the Democratic press is pleased to boast—the job of running a campaign of education. The liar is less than a week ahead of Altgeld, and has taken up quarters with the Decatur Review. His first piece of work may be seen on the editorial page of that paper. In it he tells the people of Decatur and vicinity how the "Republican organs of Pennsylvania have a way of speaking out about the true inwardness of third party measures and methods of campaigning that must shock the western editors of the same party." He then quotes largely from an editorial in the Pittsburg Leader concerning the strike or lockout in the Pittsburg iron mills in which that paper says:

> Pennsylvania to-day offers a black prospect. Instead of furnishing a luminous illustration of prosperity growing out of tariff legislation this state presents the disheartening spectacle of a conflict between the iron and steel manufacturers and their employes over a proposed reduction of wages—a conflict which, if the local morning papers state the case correctly in their issue to-day, is almost certain to result in a strike involving perhaps 40,000 men.

The first trouble is the statement made that the Pittsburg Leader is a Republican paper that speaks out, etc. It happens that the Leader is an Independent Democratic paper and an enemy of protection, and is known as such in Pennsylvania, notwithstanding the fact that the Review says it is a Republican paper and the paper itself hypocritically claims it favors Harrison's re-election. So instead of the campaign of education promised by the followers of the codfish aristocrat at Buzzard's Bay, who is having his outing while honest and common people are laboring to feed babies that are by blood and heredity and training as good as Baby Ruth, we have the "campaign liar."

Pennsylvania has been made what it is by protection. The men who are on a strike or locked out got the work they have left through protection, and "high protection" is not responsible for the present trouble at Pittsburg, as the new tariff law reduced the duty on everything produced by the Pittsburg mills, which, according to Democratic theories, ought to have bettered the condition of these workmen. The facts about this whole affair are simple and in due time will be adjusted, unless Democratic demagogues like the Pittsburg Leader succeed in keeping it open. The Amalgamated association has made a new scale of wages to take the place of the old scale, the one-year limit of which has expired. The new scale proposes an increase of wages which the bosses have not yet agreed to, and that is all there is to the present iron works trouble, not only in Pittsburg but everywhere else except in the south, where labor is kept in a subordinated condition.

In a Free Dispensary.

"It's really a strange thing to me," said one of the staff at a hospital dispensary, as a jeweled hand reached in at the little window of the drug store to take the bottles of charity medicines and thrust them in the folds of an expensive coat, "it really is a strange thing to me how a person as well off in worldly goods as that young lady apparently is, can humble herself enough to apply in the out ward of a dispensary for free treatment and free medicine, when she is well able to pay for it elsewhere. It's not uncommon, bless you, no indeed. Here comes another. Now listen and you'll learn something."

Going over to the drug window he said to another well dressed young woman who presented her order and a bottle-

"This bottle isn't large enough, miss."

"Well, I'll have to go away and get another."

"We'll sell you one for five cents if you wish," said the drug manipulator.

"No. I guess I'll come later in the day," replied she, and turning left.

"Won't even pay five cents for a bottle," mused the doctor, "and that scene is getting so common that I'm almost getting used to it."—Philadelphia Press.

Danger In Stemming Flowers.

Bad effects at times attend the stemming of flowers; that is, the addition of wisps to short cuttings to make needed lengths in constructing bouquets or large forms of decoration. In this work, thin, threadlike wire is used for binding the lengths together. This wire is in pieces about six inches long and nearly as sharp as needles. In fast work the points are likely to run under the finger nails or enter the muscles of the hands. As they are more or less rusty, an accident with them calls at once for the lotion bottle and wrapping rags, or perhaps poultice or salt pork applications later.

In response to a question, an old florist remarked, "I don't know that any one ever suffered lockjaw from these wounds, but I've seen a good many chaps' jaws loosened pretty well to give vent to unprintable expletives called forth by these harrowing, tiny stabs."—New York Tribune.

Do You Know It.

A common cough is the most dangerous thing in the world to neglect; a slight hacking cough is also very dangerous, as it always leads to Bronchitis and Consumption. Don't neglect them. In selecting a remedy for coughs, colds and Bronchitis, be sure and get one that is not full of Opium and one that will not produce Constipation. Ballard's Horehound Syrup does not constipate, remember this. It is perfectly harmless for children, and it's the most soothing and healing Throat and Lung medicine in the world. ILLINOIS GRAND TEMPLE.

Birth of the State Organization of Pythian Sisters at Coeur de Leon Lodge

From Friday's Daily

The Pythian Sisters order, auxiliary to the Knights of Pythias, is only four years old, but it has representatives in thirty different states, with grand temples in ten states, and another state organization to be formed in Minnesota at Minneapolis next week In the United States there are 10,000 Pythian Sisters, with the membership rapidly increasing The grand temple for the Illinois Sisterhood was organized yesterday afternoon at the hall of Cœur de Leon Lodge No 17, Knights of Pythias, by Mrs Ida Weaver, of Hartford, Indiana, the supreme chief of the world, assisted by Mrs Cornwell, of Quincy, deputy grand chief. Mrs Weaver is a lady of charming manners and enviable executive ability, who has endeared herself to everybody whom she has met in Decatur. Every Sister is her devoted friend and admirer. In the organization the following officers of the Illinois Grand Temple were elected

Grand Chief—Mrs Jennie Hawe, Decatur

Grand Senior Chief—Mrs Lenora Simpson, Leroy

Grand Junior Chief—Mrs. Kate Welsh, Quincy

Grand Manager—Mrs Belle Quinlan, Galesburg

Grand Mistress of Records and Correspondence—Miss Sarah Derrick, Camp Point

Grand Mistress of Finance—Mrs. Frankie Stewart Effingham

Grand Protector—Mrs Mary Winegardner, Decatur

Grand Outer Guard—Mrs E O, Whistler, Bement

Past Grand Chief—Mrs Alexene Murray, Leroy

Representatives to Supreme Temple—Mrs Helena Cornwell of Quincy and Mrs Alexene Murray of Leroy, for four and two years respectively

The Supreme Temple will meet at Kansas City in August

The election of Mrs Hawe as Grand Chief is a high compliment to Decatur and Myrtle Temple The lady is every way qualified to occupy the exalted position Decatur will be the headquarters for the Grand Temple

There was a pleasant reception and social last night for the visitors at the lodge room

To day the organization of the grand temple was completed by the adoption of a constitution and by-laws

Nearly all of the representatives left for their homes this afternoon

This afternoon at the east entrance of the St Nicholas Hotel the grand officers of the Illinois Pythian Sisters Grand Temple and all representatives were taken in a group by Artist Hawe. Mrs Ida Weaver, the supreme chief was the central figure After the artist had finished his work, the ladies spent the afternoon visiting points of interest before leaving for their homes

At the business session of the Grand Temple this forenoon there was an exemplification of the ritualistic work, the adoption of the constitution and by laws A resolution was adopted in memory of Bro J A Hall, the founder of the Pythian Sisters order, who died at Greencastle, Ind, last April The Grand Temple trustees elected were Mrs Emma Young of Leroy, for three years, Mrs Dr Dunn of Centralia, for two years, and Mrs Aurora Schagg of Quincy, for one year The Deputy Grand Chiefs selected were No 1—Mrs Aurora Schagg, Quincy, No 2—Mrs Cora Dillehunt Decatur No 3—Mrs Frankie Stewart, Effingham, No 4—Mrs Emma Young, Leroy No 5—Mrs Bodman, Bement No. 5—Jane L Craver, Camp Point No 7—Mrs Longbrake, Galesburg, No 8—Mrs Dwight, Centralia

The next meeting of the State Temple will be held in October, 1893, at the place where the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias will meet

THE SILENT REAPER.

Sudden Death of Mrs. N W Rucker —Found Dead

From Saturday's Daily

Mrs Martha Jane Rucker, wife of Nat W Rucker, died suddenly this morning at 8 o'clock at the family apartments over the Rucker restaurant on North Water street The lady had been afflicted with the grip and was being treated for that ailment by Dr Heil. She had complained of a pain in her breast, but it was not considered serious. The lady had gone about attending to her household duties and was feeling as well as usual last night and at an early hour this morning. Mrs Rucker occupied a bed last night with her 14 year-old daughter, Addie May, who is in poor health, and Mr. Rucker occupied another bed in the same room This morning at five o'clock Mr. Rucker was awakened by his wife, and he went down into the restaurant to prepare breakfast Mrs Rucker made no complaint then, but she said she guessed she would not get up James A Rucker, of Long Creek, son of the deceased, had come in from the country He got breakfast in the restaurant, and then went up the stairway to visit his mother this was shortly before eight o'clock He spoke but his mother did not answer. Addie was awake, and both thought that their mother was either asleep or pretending to be asleep She was shaken slightly but did not stir, and then both brother and sister became alarmed and on further investigation found that the silent reaper was in the chamber

Mr Rucker was hastily summoned as was also Dr Heil, but death had come into the room, and had taken away the wife and mother Mrs Rucker had made no struggle or movement after her husband left the room at 5 o'clock Death was caused by heart failure Her age was 57 years

The deceased was a daughter of Mrs Annie Horton who will be 80 years of age in August Her brothers are D D Horton, of Piatt county, and William Horton of this county, and her sister is Mrs Matilda Walker, of Macon Her children are Mrs B F Andrews, Mrs Etta Wheeler, James A Rucker, Mrs Ella Hill, W H Rucker, Mrs Nora Ricketts, J N Rucker, Jesse F Rucker, Addie May Rucker and Edward Rucker The deceased at the time of her marriage united with the Cumberland Presbyterian church, but during her residence in Arkansas she united with the Methodist church

Mr Rucker and the family will have the sympathy of the entire community in their sudden lost

Want him to Put up $501 25.

From Friday's Daily

Richard Kirby, of Whitmore township, is having a stirring experience with representatives of a new lightning rod scheme, men who claim that they represent a Philadelphia concern whose capital is $37 000 000 The man proposed to give Kirby 245 feet of rod, Kirby to pay 75 cents per foot for all over 245 feet. The man delivered 900 feet of rod, and then demanded $501 25 Kirby had signed an agreement, but he had kept the paper He now refuses to fork over the $501,25, and the lightning rod men, who give their names as T M Davis and A Buckley, threaten prosecution in the courts Mr Kirby has laid the case before State's Attorney Mills It is not likely that Mr Kirby will be bothered any more by the rod men

From Friday's Daily

Capt Samuel D Hawly died at Cerro Gordo, Ill this morning aged 88 years He was born in Pennsylvania June 18 1804 moved to Ohio when [illegible] years old, and to Illinois in 1848 He entered land in Willow Branch township, on which he lived 45 years About 3 years ago he moved into the town of Cerro Gordo to end his declining days He leaves a widow and three children He will be buried from the M E church at 1 o'clock p m Friday, July 1 Services will be conducted by Rev T D Weems, of Hillopole Burial in Havely graveyard, 5 miles north of town.

A LOVE MATCH.

Marriage of December and May in Decatur

From Friday's Daily

The marriage of the venerable pioneer Methodist preacher, Arthur Bradshaw, and Mrs Louisa Daniels, was solemnized this afternoon at 1 15 o'clock at the home of the happy bride on East Eldorado street, in the presence of a few intimate friends Justice Shorb officiated and tied the nuptial knot securely and firmly in accordance with the statutes of the state of Illinois The responses were clearly and earnestly given The bride, who is slight of figure and weighs scarcely more than 90 pounds, was attired in white, and Mrs. Sigler, the bridesmaid, was similarly attired. There was no "best man" and no wedding march or wedding feast After the ceremony the groom paid the Squire his two-dollar fee, and then Rev Bradshaw and bride left for the depot to take the north bound train on the Illinois Central road to enjoy a brief bridal tour

The groom is 79 years of age and the bride is 29 years old It is the second marriage for each During the past few years Rev Bradshaw has been in charge of Janes' Chapel. We learn that it is his purpose to unite with the Free Methodist society and accept an assignment at some other point The bride has been a resident of Decatur for some time Her husband died recently She has been an attendant upon the services at Janes' Chapel The marriage is said to be a pure love match, and that after the proposal the happy day was quickly agreed upon

McClellan for Circuit Clerk

In this issue Mr Edmiston McClellan is formally announced as a candidate for the important office of Circuit Clerk, subject to the decision of the Republican county convention It is unnecessary to allude in detail to the qualifications of Mr McClellan for the office He has held the position for a period of 24 years, and because of his fitness and his enviable record as an efficient and careful official, the custodian of the deeds and records of our wealthy county, he has been re elected by handsome majorities No official has retained the confidence and esteem of the voters of Macon county, regardless of party affiliations, longer than Edmiston McClellan He has always striven to perform his duties faithfully and well, and that he has succeeded is amply attested by the confidence reposed in him The circuit clerk's office is always in first-class shape The nomination of Mr McClellan for clerk by the Republican convention would be equivalent to an election, and "Mac" would get there by a handsome majority

Party at Harristown

A croquet party was given at E C Kretzer's lake near Harristown on Tuesday evening The menu of the party was prepared by Miss Sue Connelly in honor of her cousin, Mame Connelly of Springfield The invited guests, numbering nearly forty, were all attired in handsome summer suits expressly arranged for the occasion Mrs J. H Pickrell of Chicago and Miss Anna Barth of Harristown were chosen as managers. The picnic goers started from the residence of Dr J. L. Connelly for the grounds at 2 o'clock p m, arriving at the lake shortly after, where they all improved the good time in store in croqueting, boating, playing games of all descriptions, etc The party took supper on the picnic ground, and remained until the late hour of 10 o'clock p. m., when they all expressed themselves highly entertained by Miss Sue and her cousin Mame and departed for their homes

Decatur Raised $100

The chief of the salary and allowance division of the postoffice department has completed the annual readjustment of the salaries of Presidential postmasters, based upon the gross receipts of their offices during the four quarters of the last fiscal year, under the act of March 3, 1883 The changes in the salaries of postmasters in this part of Illinois are as follows Decatur, $2800 to $2900, Bloomington $2900 to $3000, Bement, $1100 to $1200 Charleston, $1800 to $1900 Delavan, $1400 to $1500, Dwight, $1700 to $2300 Jacksonville, $2500 to $2600, Lincoln, $2200 to $2300 Monticello, $1400 to $1500 Mattoon, $2200 to $2300, Mt Pulaski, $1200 to $1300, Normal, $1700 to $1800, Pana, $1800 to $1900, Peoria, $3300 to $3400 Quincy $3000 to $3200, Springfield $3000 to $3100, Sullivan $1300 to $1400 [illegible] $1800 to $1900

A Rainbow Chaser

Friends of Willis W Jones formerly of Camargo who [illegible] some several years ago and afterward sunk all his means in a Chicago paper, assert that he is now penniless and deeply in debt His wife, it is said, is now at Camargo in destitute circumstances, and has within the past few days asked for aid When Mr Jones quitted his nursery to engage in politics a few years ago, he owned a good farm and a comfortable home, but all is now lost to him His wife, at the time the farm was sold, refused to sign the deed but was finally persuaded to do so by him It is to be regretted that she did not hold out firmly against his rainbow chasing schemes to get rich suddenly —Tuscola Review

WEEKLY REPUBLICAN.

ENTERED AT THE [illegible] AT DECATUR ILLINOIS AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER

THE July number of the Review of Reviews contains a well written article giving some interesting points in the civil, military and official life of President Harrison, which show him to be a really great man

IN his letter to the Tammany society conveying his regrets on his being unable to attend the Democratic Fourth of July celebration Senator Hill said of the Democratic party, It hates hypocrisy, shams and frauds He probably had in mind Grover Cleveland and the Mugwumps when he wrote the letter

AN Ex Confederate in Congress has threatened that the South will secede from the Union unless it can be made exempt from contributing to the payment of pensions to Union soldiers Grover Cleveland did what he could during his four years of office to relieve both the South and the North from paying pensions to Union soldiers, and on top of it all ordered the confederate flags back

THEY call him simply General Stevenson This reminds us of the remark made by President Lincoln When looking over a petition asking the appointment of a certain obscure and untried man to a generalship in the army, he noticed that the petition did not state whether the applicant desired the rank of brigadier general or major general, and, smiling at this omission, he observed "Major general I suppose"

GROVER CLEVELAND is the king of Democrats He is the only ex Democratic president living, and the only one elected since 1856 No man appreciates this fact more than the Stuffed Prophet, or makes more of it He simply, as it were by suffrance allows the Democratic leaders to come to him If they reach Buzzards Bay when the god of the Buzzard Bayites is out fishing they sit on logs at the edge of the water and listen to the frogs croak in accents which seem to sound something like the words "The tariff is a tax" until he makes a landing

Free Silver

The Democratic convention which so recently met at Chicago, attempted to declare the position of the Democratic party on silver Recent developments however which are no more or less than supplemental to the declarations of the party in 1880 and 1884 go to show that the convention mistook the temper of the party The declarations of the platform show that the party desires to rid its [illegible] of the advocacy of free silver The vote in the United States Senate Friday, on silver by which every Democratic Senator except seven, recorded on the roll call voted for free silver and stood by the 1880 and 1884 declarations Now the question is Does the Chicago platform voice the sentiment of the party on silver or does the vote of Democrats in the Senate? The convention has adjourned sine die It will not meet again The Democratic Senators are in congress to legislate They have passed a free coinage bill and thus show that every one save seven have declared by their votes that the platform does not represent the wish of the party and that the party is in favor of free coinage This is the logic of these events It follows, as a matter of course, that if the convention made a mistake in attempting to voice the sentiment of the party on silver it also made a mistake in the nominee for President It is well known that Cleveland eight years ago after his election and before his inauguration advised congress to suspend the coinage of silver Within the last year he supplemented his letter of eight years ago with another letter in which he opposed the free coinage of silver, and after making a silver plank to suit, the convention nominated Mr Cleveland for President and thus, in its effort to interpret the sentiment of the Democratic party, nominated a candidate and made a platform altogether out of harmony with the party, as represented in congress, on this question This being true, there seems to be little use in the Democratic party fooling with the silver question With Cleveland as President, unless he changes his views, a veto would follow a free silver bill if one were presented to him The action of the Democratic party in nominating Cleveland and attempting an honest money silver plank at the convention and then going back on both in the Senate, leaves that party in a pretty bad fix on silver, and it will either have to drop the whole matter or take up that part of their platform which declares for a silver dollar of the same intrinsic value as a gold dollar

Cant

The Review has probably succeeded, by close application to the study of Webster's unabridged dictionary, in convincing itself that the words "turpitude" and "rectitude" are not synonymous If it will now devote a little spare time to the study of the word "cant" used without an apostrophe, as a contraction for the words "can not" the readers of the Review will by and by be relieved from the annoyance of determining, each for himself, what is really ment by the phrase "the Democratic party cant" when it appears, as it often does, in the editorials of that paper

Webster gives a number of definitions for the word "cant Among them we find it defined as, "an iron ring round a carriage wheel" "an inclination from a horizontal or vertical line," "the singing or whining tone of voice used by beggars," "empty solemn speech implying what is not felt" and "hypocrisy"

While it is true that any of these definitions might with propriety apply to the Democratic party as Democratic party cant," it is not clear to us that the Review would have courage enough to use the word "cant" to convey these meanings Should it do so and should the party of which it is the organ make the discovery there would be a young rebellion in the region of Prairie street, conducted without guns or banners

The Democratic party, we admit, is the tool of a political "ring, but, while this may be a ring round the offices, the party has to give, and hopes to get, it is not a ring round a carriage wheel The Democratic bosses get round a fortune or paddle wheel more naturally than round carriage wheels,

Of course the Democratic party never was horizontal, save when it favored the horizontal tariff bill and the result of that according to Henry Watterson, was that the party, to save itself from a split as the result, had to adopt a straddle tariff plank in 1884 No one has ever accused the party of being vertical It is too inconsistent to be credited even by the Review as being vertical on any question affecting the welfare of the people So the definition of the word "cant" holds good as to the party in these cases

As to singing in a whining tone of voice like a beggar, no party has approached the Democratic party in the production of a litter of calamity howlers that has put to shame the ordinary beggar, who has been driven to the use of the hand organ and accordeon to hold his own and preserve his dignity

The empty solemn speech implying what is not felt, and full of hypocrisy, is as natural to the Democratic party as it is for a Democrat to vote the Democratic ticket That party and especially its candidate will make any hypocritical pretension to deceive the people if by it they can get votes, and even now the Democratic candidate for governor is going about the state illustrating this definition of the Review's word "cant" as defined by Webster's Unabridged Dictionary

The Big Six

The Associated Press has sent out a report of a meeting of Typographical Union No 6 New York relating to the candidacy of Whitelaw Reid for the vice presidency This report after giving in detail the statement made by No 6 by President Kenney who was at the head of the committee that went to Minneapolis and there urged the nomination of Mr Reid speaks of the vote taken in the union as follows

"A motion was then made to express full confidence in the committee, which after a full and free discussion, was passed by a vote of 500 to 25 It was then stated, on behalf of the committee, that the Tribune would be made a thorough union office inside of a month The powers of the committee negotiating with the Tribune were thereupon continued A report is expected at the next meeting of the union

While those things are going on which show that the Democratic efforts to stampede labor unions and run them into the Democratic camp are proving unsuccessful, Mr Stevenson is still running his rat coal mines in Bloomington

But the Democratic members of these unions, who so quickly became disgusted with the Republican nominee for vice president, are not kicking half so furiously about Stevenson. This creates in the minds of many the suspicion that they love the Democratic party more than they do the welfare of the union, or else were dishonest in the attack on Mr Reid Union No 6 by endorsing the course of its committee at Minneapolis, carries with it the endorsement of Reid's nomination We will now wait patiently for the Miner's Association to endorse Stevenson's candidacy

He Forgot Lincoln

Adlai E Stevenson managed to get through with his Fourth of July oration a Peoria, without referring to either Lincoln Grant, Sherman or Sheridan and other loyal men, or to the fact that within the last thirty years 3,000,000 human beings were released from bondage He did not once refer to the civil war, which is the best illustration the country has ever given of the ability of the people to govern themselves, and give their lives if need be to defeat the object of those who may conspire to overthrow the government He may excuse these omissions on the ground that he did not mention the names of Jefferson Davis and other worthies on the [illegible] side commonly known as rebels Mr Stevenson ought, however, to have given [illegible] whether the government [illegible] to have been saved by Lincoln and his followers If it was worth saving those who saved it are worthy of Mr Stevenson's notice, if it was not worth saving it is not worth holding office in, nor is it worth fussing about on the Fourth of July

EULOGY ON HON M. W MATHEWS

Delivered by Hon John A Brown July 4th at Riverside Park

In connection with the formal exercises at Riverside Park July 4th, during the picnic celebration of the Modern Woodmen Association of the Fourteenth Congressional District, in the presence of a vast audience, the following deserved eulogy on an eminent deceased neighbor was delivered by Hon John A Brown of Decatur, president of the association It was prepared by request, and was as follows

On this day, consecrated to human liberty and made secure by the sufferings and blood of our fathers, we as Modern Woodmen for a few moments turn, on the occasion of our second annual picnic, to briefly consider the character of one who but yesterday was a leader in our organization and who in the order of Providence has gone to his final rest We live in a world where change is written on all things on which the eye gazes the soil beneath our feet, the rivers that flow to the sea, the mountains that lift their terraced sides along the borders of plains and oceans, alike proclaim the ceaseless and unending changes of time The flowers come and go with the seasons, the giant oak, after having for centuries resisted the blasts of time finally yields to the law of its being and fall to the earth Nature has her revolutions which essentially alter the character of the material world Cities which were once the centres of wealth, of power and chivalry have long since ceased to exist and their ruins are obliterated by the accumulations of ages Life and death are chronicled in these multitudinous changes As in nature so too in human life, man having accomplished his destiny closes his eyes in death and goes the way of all the earth How rapidly the colors change on the rainbow of life, how swiftly glide our years away. Like the ever flowing tides of the ocean the generations of mankind come and go It is an inexorable law of our being, and to this supreme decree king and subject alike must bow The visits of the death angel are at all times solemn, startling and mysterious but seem even more so when the marked victim is one of remarkable promise, and whose life was largely devoted to the elevation and advancement of his kind Such a man was Milton W Mathews And first let me say he was a typical Illinoisan Born in Clark Co, Illinois, March 1st, 1846, dying at Urbana, May 10th, 1892, the 46 years of his life were all passed within the borders of his native state He was a child of the prairies and consequently, of necessity, he was a man of broad liberal ideas It is hardly possible for one whose life is spent amid the lovely expanse of our peerless state to be otherwise Generous in his nature, warm in his attachments strong in his physical make up, he was a true representative of Illinois He was in fact what we may call a 19th century man, awake to the spirit of the times, in full sympathy with all progress that leads the race onward to higher achievements He loved the state of his birth and confidently predicted that it was destined, at no far off period to become the first state of the Union in wealth and population but greater than his love of state was his sacred regard his intense love of the Republic When the great rebellion of the slaveholding barons of the South was drawing to a close and the sword of Lee was at Appomattox surrendered to Grant, Matthews was just entering his 19th year All the pulsations of his young life beat responsive to the music of the Union He was a patriot in the full sense of the word From that hour to the time of his death he labored, wrote and spoke in behalf of the union of the states and the elevation of fallen humanity

Milton W Mathews was a born orator to him speech came as easy and graceful as the sweep of a flowing river Many of his speeches thrilled his hearers and will never be forgotten He was a true friend—not one of the class so prevalent in our modern political life that abound in promises that are made only to be broken his word was always sacredly kept Hypocrisy did not enter into his composition, he was not a deceiver For him there was only the honest, manly way of advocacy, he respected an honest political foe The deceit that he despised in an individual he utterly abhorred in a politician He was always consistent, from his first step in political life to the last he adhered to the faith and fortunes of one political party He strongly sympathized with the afflicted, and was ever ready with his means to aid the unfortunate Nothing so pained him as to look on a human face whose look betrayed the fact that from that soul the angel of hope had flown This tendency of his nature led him to become a member of the Modern Woodmen He saw in this organization an order that would be of large assistance to the widow and the orphan in the hour of their supremist affliction Its 60,000 members, recognizing his ability, made him chairman of the board of trustees, and conscientiously and faithfully was this trust discharged Less than one short year ago, from this very platform, he addressed us for the last time, the picture of robust health. Little did any of us then realize that before a year should pass the final summons to the gifted Matthews would come.

At the time of his death he was editor of the Urbana Herald, which under his management became one of the best interior newspapers of the state As an editor he excelled To build up and make successful a new newspaper in this state, where so many able ones are found, is no slight task But having decided to do so, he diligently and persistently worked and lived to see his paper on a successful basis The editors of the state, recognizing his ability twice in succession elected him president of the state editorial association His high appreciation of the duties of an editor did not allow him to descend to low personalities or abuse of his opponent

He filled successfully the offices of master in chancery and state's attorney of Champaign county, and also served as state senator In the legislature he at once took a leading position on the Republican side

While the above briefly outlines the more prominent characteristics and work of our departed brother, I feel the utter impossibility of properly sketching or outlining such a character To once know him—to be associated with him—to hear his hearty laugh or feel the kindly grasp of his hand was indeed a benediction that cannot be forgotten If such loss accrues to all his friends and neighbors, what can be the depth of sorrow to that household where he reigned as husband and father

It has fallen to the lot of Illinois to have within its borders some of the most remarkable men of the century Here the gifted Doughlas lived and died Here the immortal Lincoln leaped from the obscurity of a country lawyer to the pedestal of fame Here Grant forged to the front as the greatest commander of the age Here hundreds of others that I might name distinguished in peace and war have lived and died. To say that one is distinguished in such a state, with such a galaxy of names is indeed an honor From what he accomplished during his short life is it too much to say that had Milton W Mathews lived the allotted time of man his name would have been carved high on the temple of fame

Like the great commander on the mount for weary weeks he looked into the face of death and when at last his physician announced that hope had flown and the end was near he calmly bid a long farewell to those near and dear and resolutely passed from life to death

At his bier gathered thousands of his neighbors and friends, the leading men of the state, including the Governor and staff The floral offerings exceeding any thing ever known in Central Illinois and attested the loss his fellow citizens felt His remains were deposited in the cemetery at Urbana, Illinois, and there beneath the sod of his native state, under the starry canopy of Heaven we leave him at rest, in the confident hope, however, that in some clime we know not where, in some manner we know not how, we shall meet and greet him again

"Do you think that truth is stranger than fiction?" "Idon't know," replied the cautious man, "when some people that I know get through with it it generally seems to be"

THE heathen in their blindness bow down to wood and stone After they have been converted they learn to worship gold

JAGSON says it is strange nobody ever finds out what the wild waves are saying, although ever so many go to sea

A MAN'S mind is a scrap book, and the tough things he pasted in it when he was young never fade

BRIDAL TRIP IN A BALLOON.

August Lightner and Nettie Eddy Sail Above the Clouds

Angst Lightner and Miss Nettie Eddy were married at Baldwin Park, Quincy, in the presence of 12,000 people. As soon as the ceremony was performed they stepped into the car of a balloon, the rope was cut and they started on a tour above the clouds Ivy Baldwin was the aeronaut The balloon landed about ten miles south of the city having ascended to an altitude of 8 000 feet

Look Out For Them

Mrs Funston, who lives a mile east of own, and Uncle John Foster, of this place, were buncoed out of $135 and $200 last Friday by a trio of smooth lightning rod agents Their plan was to get a contract in advance that appeared harmless enough but which figured up pretty high. Both jobs were probably worth $25 if they were worth anything, which is very doubtful They got a judgment note from Mrs Funston and cold cash from Mr Foster Both the parties victimized are old citizens, old enough to have known better, and they probable believe in the old saw that "One is never too old to learn —Lovington Reporter

The Moser-Miller Wedding

On Wednesday evening of last week at ... o'clock, at the beautiful home of the bride's parents, two miles and a half miles south of Urbana, a well planned wedding took place. Miss Lydia, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr and Mrs Henry Miller and J G, only son of Mr and Mrs David Moser, being the bride and groom. The house was simply but tastefully decorated with field and garden flowers blooming brightly among lilies and potted plants. As the organist, Miss Nellie Miller, filled the rooms with strains of Lohengrin bridal melody, the bridal party entered and stood beneath the umbrella of roses where Rev H C Adams performed the beautiful and impressive ring ceremony. The bride looked exceptionally beautiful in a becoming toilet of cream mull, cut entrain and trimmed in deep rich lace, her ornaments were natural roses which she wore in her corsage and hair. H H Schurlock of Champaign and Miss Miller sister of the bride, acted as best man and bridesmaid. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the spacious dining room where an elegant banquet was served. The bride has for the past few years been one of Champaign county's most successful teachers, and the groom is a very ambitious and energetic young man, at present manager of the World's Fair relief corp. Mr and Mrs Moser departed on Thursday on an extended wedding tour through the south visiting Indianapolis, Cairo, Mammoth and Wyandotte caves and other principle and historical places, returning home by boat by way of Mississippi and Ohio rivers, and will be "at home" to their many friends in their new home on Dry street, in Urbana, after July 1. The guests numbered about forty persons only their most intimate friends being invited. Among those from a distance were Mr and Mrs J Pistorious, Mr and Mrs Fred Buhle, and Mrs Mary Biles of Boody, Mrs Richard From, Misses Effie Dillenbandt and Maggie Germer of Blue Mound; Henry Burt H H Shurlock and ... S G Plank of Champaign, L B Armstrong, Leverett Ros and Mrs H C Adams Misses Della Ewing, Maggie and Eliza Messersmith, Bertha Smith, Emma Fasess, Messrs L V Jenkins, Charles Ewing and I W Maxwell of Savoy. They received many beautiful, useful and costly presents the bride received an elegant silver service presented by the groom.

Deafness Can't be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

JUDGE VAIL IN CHICAGO.

Actresses and Opera Singers Get Divorces

Judge Vail who is holding court in Chicago for Judge Collins, had a busy day Saturday. It was theatrical day on the divorce docket for him, and he was generous to the complainants in every instance. Margaret Mather, the noted actress who once did Juliet in Decatur, was granted a divorce from her husband, Emil Haberkorn, whom she married in Buffalo in 1887. Desertion and nonsupport were the causes. The case attracted considerable attention. Nathaniel B Gray, who has $50,000 in property and an income of $5,000, got a divorce from his wife on the ground of habitual drunkenness. Mrs. Marie A. Hatch got a divorce from William Hatch, of the "Blackmail" company because Bill is a drunkard. The couple were married in '88, and had gone to Jamaica on their bridal tour. Mrs. Lena B Graves, a noted opera singer, secured a divorce from her husband, Henry B Graves, son of Ex-Chief Justice Graves of the Michigan supreme court. Non-support and inability to agree on anything were the causes considered good enough to order the legal separation.

A HANDSOME STORE.

The Auspicious Opening of the H Mueller Gun Company.

MAGNIFICENT DISPLAY OF FIREWORKS

The New Store Visited by Thousands of People on the Occasion of the Formal Reception to the Public—Music by Goodman's Band—Souvenirs—Officers of the Company and Its Employes—The Store in Detail

Fully two thousand ladies, gentlemen and children visited the handsome new sporting goods store of the H Mueller Gun Co, at No 134 East Prairie street Friday evening on the occasion of their grand formal opening and reception to the public. It was a complete success, and the management of the affair reflects much credit on the officers of the company. Not only was the display complete in every particular, but the gentlemanly corps of clerks caused each caller to feel perfectly "at home" while they were being ushered through the various departments, and all left feeling that they had passed the short time very profitably. The gentlemen in charge were Manager Fred Mueller, Secretary and Treasurer A F Wilson, Louis Schario, Oscar Mueller, Frank Ford, George Rupert and Bob Spalding. The illumination was perfect, the incandescent lights and gas jets lighting up the departments with beautiful effect. There was also a beautiful display of cut flowers stationed on the show cases.

Goodman's Band of 22 pieces was present and observed the following delightful program

March—Occidental	Sousa
Grand Selection from Tanhauser	Wagner
Military Schottisch	Rollinson
Traumbilder, arranged by Meyrelles	Lumby
La Revealamer—Concert Waltz	Sousa
Hunting Scene	Bucolosi
A Night in Grenada	Kreutzer
Galop—Fire	Laurendeau

Handsome souvenirs were furnished each guest as they entered

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE COMPANY.

H Mueller, the founder of the H Mueller M'f'g Company, the H Mueller Plumbing and Heating Company and the H Mueller Gun Company, came to Decatur in 1857 and started a gun repairing shop in the old Faust property on West Main street, in a frame building on the ground now occupied by the Globe Hotel. They occupied this building one year and then moved to the store room now occupied by the N. W Rucker restaurant on North Water street. The following year H Mueller and family moved to Pike's Peak. Returning to Decatur in the spring of 1861, Mr Mueller again started business in a frame building on East Main street, on the site now occupied by the east store of the Linn & Scruggs Dry Goods and Carpet Company. They occupied this room until 1872, when H Mueller built the building now occupied by the H. Muller M'f'g Company. It was about this time that H. Mueller was appointed city tapper by the city council. Shortly afterwards H Mueller made a drawing of a water tapping machine and had it patented. It proved a wonderful success and he at once put in machinery to manufacture the patent. All of this time, about 16 years, H Mueller conducted a gunsmithing and model making business. In 1885 the gunsmithing business was transferred to a separate store, and a portion of the room occupied by the J L. Peake & Son's jewelry store on Merchant street was leased. But owing to the large increase of business, this was found to be inadequate to supply the demands, and the Jerome Anderson building at 134 East Prairie street was leased, refitted and rearranged, and on the first of June the H. Mueller Gun Company took possession of their new store, the handsomest in the city and the most elegant establishment of its kind in the state, not excepting Chicago.

DESCRIPTION OF BUILDING

The building was formerly occupied by Fred Norman as a barber shop, but when Mr. Norman moved to the Syndicate block the entire front was torn out and replaced by large plate-glass show windows. The main window measures 12x14½ feet, giving the company an excellent opportunity to exhibit their goods to the public gaze. The inside is furnished throughout with hard oak wood, with light oak finish. On one side of the main room there is a row of handsome plate-glass show cases and on the other side has been constructed wall-cases for the lawn tennis guns and rifles. The next department is used exclusively for bicycles and hammocks and the floor is covered with a handsome Brussels carpet. The second story is occupied for the storing away of stock and there has been fitted up a complete repair shop at the rear of the second floor. The building is heated by steam and lighted by gas and incandescent electric lights. The building is two stories high and the dimensions are 100x18½ feet

INCORPORATED

The H Mueller Gun company was incorporated June 1st, 1892, under the state law, with a paid up capital stock of $10,000, and at a meeting held soon after, the following officers were elected. H. Mueller, president, F B Mueller, vice president and general manager, and A F Wilson, secretary and treasurer

THE HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS

F B Mueller is general manager. A F Wilson, secretary and treasurer. Frank Ford, Louis Schario and Oscar Mueller have charge of the main store and bicycle room and George Rupert presides over the repair shops, beside a number of under-employes.

There were no goods sold last evening on the occasion of the opening, but the store was crowded this morning at an early hour, all eager to purchase 4th of July supplies

THE STOCK

The stock carried by the H Mueller Gun company is most complete and includes everything in the sporting goods line, from a fishing hook to a row boat

Entered at the Postoffice at Decatur, Illinois as second class mail matter

J W Rosenthal, a member of the Michigan Democratic Committee, has come out for Harrison

"Deacon White, of New York, says that state will give Harrison 40 000 majority though the Republicans will be well enough satisfied with 25 000

Hon J L Slay of Meridian, Miss, has left the Democratic party and joined the peoples party It is fair to assume that Mr Slay is as good a Democrat as ever

The friends of Adlai E Stevenson seem to have gotten entire satisfaction from ex Governor John M Hamilton There seems to be no reply—no kicking

Excepting the prohibition plank the principles announced in the Prohibition party platform shows that party to be the only Democratic party that gets no Democratic votes

The Democratic colonel who claimed, after the nomination of Gen Stevenson for vice president, that he fought under Gen Stevenson at Chattanooga, according to the latest bulletins, has crawled into the hole and pulled the hole in after him

Taking a broad view of the working of protection since 1846, it appears that the principal products the farmers sell have advanced in price an average of 114 per cent while on the other hand, the principal articles they have to buy have fallen an average of 70 per cent Yet Democrats with cheeks of triple plated brass declare that the tariff is a tax and a particularly heavy burden on the farmers

Cleveland furnished a substitute to the Union Army during the war and has not been accorded even the title of Colonel Stevenson did not even furnish a substitute but on the other hand helped to declare the war a failure in 1864 and is called General Stevenson While this illustrates the superiority of the genius of the Woolly West over that of the east, it is eminently unfair to the truth of history

Stevenson did not fight at Buzzard's Roost during the war, as some enthusiastic Democrat claimed he did He did not fight at all He only threatened to fight in case the government attempted to enforce the draft While the Democratic ticket was not represented at Buzzard's Roost, it is represented at Buzzard's Bay by a fisherman, so that party may still reasonably claim the buzzard vote

A late edition of the speech of General Bankhead (ex Confederate) in the House in denunciation of Union pensions is being printed for circulation in the south This is the speech in which Bankhead threatened a disruption of the Union if the south is not relieved of the pension tax According to Bankhead the north must pay the entire amount of the pensions itself or prepare to face another rebellion The south will not submit much longer, he says to paying a part of the pensions

We sometimes hear some wiseacres speak of the old party of Lincoln and Grant in such a way as to discredit the Republican party of to day These same men however did not support the party when Lincoln and Grant were preferred by the party and every Democrat in the land could find ten reasons in the days of Lincoln and Grant why the Republican party should not exist to where he can find one to day The fact is the Republican party never did suit Democrats and their allies

South Carolina in 1823 declared a protective tariff unconstitutional the Southern Confederacy thirty years later, tried to shoot life into a constitution which declared that no duties should be levied upon imports for the purpose of protecting any industry in the confederacy and thirty years later the Democratic party in convention at Chicago declared that a protective tariff is unconstitutional In spite of these Democratic assaults upon the industries of our country the government still lives

The free trade professors and theorists occasionally tell the truth and the whole truth in a way that the free trade politicians can not imitate In fact the blunt truth often distresses the latter Take for instance the following from Walker's Political Economy page 16

It is perfectly true as the protectionist asserts, that a tariff of customs duties upon foreign goods imported into new countries tends to create and maintain high rates of wages in the factory districts

Mr Walker is a distinguished political economist and free trade leader, but he is entitled to praise chiefly for telling the truth

Whatever the Republican side of the House lacks in numbers is made up by a full supply of courage brains and clear sighted determination The splendid conduct of the Republican minority during the fight over the silver bill extorted expressions of admiration from such a stiff necked Democrat as Crain, of Texas "I couldn't help" said Mr Crain, "but admire the magnificent discipline displayed by the Republican minority It was equal to that of a German regiment They advanced, retreated wheeled faced about, marched counter marched, and charged like trained veterans It was magnificent, and it was politics" Several hundred thousand Republicans say ditto to that The Republican minority has done nobly.

The New Premier

The appointment of John W Foster to succeed James G Blaine at the head of the state department will be eminently satisfactory in every way, save one, and that is that he hails from Indiana Already one cabinet officer is from that state—the attorney general, Mr Miller—and on the line of equity the objection to the appointment of another Indianian would be legitimate But it is clear that the appointment was made in spite of this objection, not because he was from Indiana, but for the reason that he was the best available man for the place

There is no doubt that, for political purposes, the President would have been glad to be able to select the state from which he preferred to pick a man for this vacancy, and then choose the man from that state But unfortunately, every or any state does not have men fitted for this most responsible and special position who can be picked up on a moment's notice, and at this particular time, when the administration is so near the expiration of its term, it must have been especially hard to designate a man having any sort of relation or reference to political divisions of the country

Therefore Mr Foster's appointment was made solely on the ground of availability and fitness, and from this stand point the appointment must be viewed The fact that the senate confirmed the appointment, without referring it to the foreign relations committee, is almost without precedent, such honor having been confined to senators in active service, who are nominated for office, which argues that the appointment is not only highly satisfactory to the senate, but that Mr Foster's services to the government have been of such a distinguished character, that the vote for confirmation in the way it came amounts to a vote of confidence

Mr Foster has been in the diplomatic service since 1873 serving as minister to Mexico St Petersburg and Spain, respectively, and since that time both in the administrations of President Cleveland and President Harrison, he was sent on special diplomatic missions by the government, but in the present administration he has been especially active having had charge of the arrangement of the most important reciprocity treaties under the McKinley law, and is entirely familiar with the business before the state department, and for these reasons, he was, no doubt appointed, and for these reasons the appointment was so highly satisfactory to the senate and will be to the country

REFUSES TO ENDORSE ALTGELD.

Important Action Taken by the Northern Illinois Lutheran Synod

Freeport, June 28 —The report of the committee on educational law has been submitted to the evangelical synod of the German Lutheran church of Northern Illinois After outlining the demands in connection with the repeal of the present school law the report favors keeping the matter out of politics The delegates say that they were determined that the report should not be used by either political party, and that no man should be able to say that he carried the Lutheran vote in his pocket The committee which interviewed Governor Fifer stated that it was fairly satisfied with his assurances, and believed that he was disposed to do the proper thing An emissary of Judge Altgeld was here a few days ago endeavoring to persuade the synod to endorse the action of the Lutheran church proper His influence was of no account, as shown by the official report

"I believe in the kind of a tariff Garfield believed in" has been one of the choice expressions of the Democratic tariff demagogues In his letter of acceptance Mr Garfield said

A policy should be pursued which will bring revenue to the treasury and will enable the labor and capital employed in our great industries to compete fairly in our own markets with the labor and capital of foreign producers We legislate for the people of the United States and not for the whole world, and it is our glory that the American laborer is more intelligent and better paid than his foreign competitor * It was the manifest intention of the founders of the government to provide for the common defense, not by standing armies alone but by raising among the people a greater array of artisans, whose intelligence and skill should powerfully contribute to the safety and glory of the nation

The same Democrats who claimed to follow Garfield's tariff views now declare protection to be unconstitutional, and now refuses to recognize the rights of the American workingman to be protected in his present wages

Nobody supposed that Stevenson would acknowledge that he was a Copperhead He has not yet denied, however, that he was a McClellan Presidential Elector in 1864, and wanted peace with the South on any terms which the South would favor

St John's Fair Vote

In his address, on assuming the gavel as temporary chairman of the Prohibition convention, Ex Gov St John remarked that "the Prohibition party demands a free ballot for the white man of Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Iowa, as well as for the black man of Mississippi, Louisiana and South Carolina"

In making this statement Mr St John has shown himself the demagogue and enemy of the Republican party that he is charged with being He shows himself to be controlled more by his hate for a party that gave him the only office and honorable distinction he ever had, a party to which he was loyal until it refused to elect him for a third time to the office of governor of his state

Mr St John knows that the Republican party is the only party that has the courage and the moral turpitude to arraign the Democratic party for its outrages upon the colored people and the suppression of the colored vote in the south

Mr St John knows that the Republican party means what it declares in its platform touching this question, and that the evidence of this fact is in the passage of the Federal Election bill in a Republican house, without a dissenting vote on the part of any Republican, and that it was only defeated in the senate by a combination of free silver Republicans with the Democratic senators in the interest of free silver

Mr St John also knows that his own party, through his influence, in its recent state convention in Illinois refused to declare in favor of a free vote for the colored people of the south and against the outrages continually being practiced against this helpless race that is in this country by no choice of its own

In face of these plain facts however, Mr St John is unscrupulous and tricky enough to gull his unsuspecting audience with the declaration above quoted Mr St John knows as well as anybody that there is no complaint from Pennsylvania, Massachusetts or Iowa from a single white or black man that he has not the privilege of a free ballot Then why should he refer to these states in this manner? Simply to cover up a fact that he dares not condemn He knows that there is no such thing as a fair ballot in many of the southern states, but he is too hypocritical to condemn this wrong where it exists, because he desires the defeat of the Republican party, and to tell the truth about this great outrage against a free government might be equivalent to endorsing the position taken by the Republican party, and so he dissembles before his audience by dragging in states where no honest man will claim the people have not a fair vote It is as if he were to declare that his party favored virtue in the reputable home as well as in places of disrepute

It is such hypocrisy as this, which the Prohibition party under the leadership of such men as St John, is made to applaud and endorse, that prevents the appeals of that party from meeting with the favor of the good judgment of the people

To our Anglo-maniacs who 'haw haw' about the civilization of England and try to ape it in discredit to our grand old "Uncle Sam," the assault on Gladstone and subsequently on Stanley by political partisans must "bwe wafully distwessing, by George" We say 'Hurrah for Uncle Sam and the American people who are not ashamed of him' and, Hurrah for the people who favor legislating in the interest of America, no matter whether it hurts England or not'

There is one man who could speak in England without being mobbed That man is Grover Cleveland He is regarded abroad as the friend of English industries and is popular with both the manufacturers and laborers

There is another man who would be mobbed if he were to attempt to speak in England That man is Major McKinley Both conservatives and tories believe that McKinley takes more interest in America than he does in England and for this reason both English manufacturers and laborers are against him They are opposed to any American statesmen who favors building up American industries

When St John said that he favored a free vote to the white man of Massachusetts Pennsylvania and Iowa as well as the colored man of Mississippi and Louisiana he simply showed that he does not object to the suppression of the colored vote He will not allow his party to pass resolutions against it for fear it may injure the Democratic party, which profits by its frauds, and helps the Republican party, which St John is trying to punish If there is any other evidence needed to show any reasonable man that St John is running his Prohibition party in the interest of the Democratic party it may be found in the free trade declarations he made in the same speech in which he dodged the southern outrage question Slavery in days gone by and suppression of the black man's vote and free trade have gone and are now going hand in hand and the man who favors the one favors the other whether it is St John or Mills of Texas

A Shoddy Resolution

The most remarkable thing for its inconsistency ever enacted in a political convention was the passage of the following resolution by the National Prohibition convention

Whereas, The Prohibition party is not a sectional party but a national party and

Whereas, The issues of the late civil war were settled and settled forever therefore

Resolved That it is the sense of this convention that speakers who are accorded the honor of addressing the convention be requested to refrain from unnecessary references or illustrations that could be construed as a reflection on any of the participants in the late struggle

The passage of this resolution came about in this way Leading Prohibition party politicians have taken a great deal of comfort out of the declaration that that party is like the old Abolition party, the forerunner of a great and irresistable reform At the Cincinnati convention Helen Gougar proceeded to make her usual speech and dwelt largely and enthusiastically on the great reform wrought by the old Abolitionists The southern contingent took offense at these remarks and some of them kept away from the next session. They regarded her references to the reforms wrought by the Abolitionists as an offensive waving of the bloody shirt, and to prevent any further offence in this direction a southern Prohibitionist introduced the above resolution, and in the interest of harmony the northern delegates let principle go to the dogs and adopted the resolution This was not enough for the southern delegates, and one of them started the old hym

Blest be the tie that binds,
Our glowing hearts in one

The hymn never was sung more inappropriately but the convention sung it It was literally used as crow,' and crow led down the throats of the northern delegates

The resolutions declare that the issues of the late civil war were settled and settled forever," and this declaration was followed by the declaration that speakers should 'refrain from unnecessary reference to them' If the issues of the civil war were settled, why is a reference to them offensive to those southern Prohibition delegates? Those people claim to be loyal The issues of the war were antagonistic The South represented one side and the North the other The South began the war, and as these issues were settled by the war, according to these resolutions, how can the southerner, if he accepts the settlement of these issues as settled in accordance with the notions of the north, become so much perturbed by a reference to the abolition of slavery by Mrs Gougar The fact is, the sensitiveness shown by Sam Small and the other southern delegates by a reference to principles, that loyal people regard as settled, makes the passage of the resolution and the singing of the sentiment of the song most ridiculous and the outcome of the whole matter will be, as it has always been before, the southern delegate will go home and vote the Democratic ticket, as well as those in the north with Democratic antecedents while the delegate of Republican antecedents will be left to bear for the Prohibition party the burden in the heat of the day

A Rubber Pavement.

When I was in Germany a few years ago I was shown a street pavement that had been laid which was made of rubber It was almost noiseless, and some went so far as to say that if it proved successful otherwise it would do away with vehicle springs. The only objection made to the pavement was that it was feared it would be affected by the change of temperature I saw a man the other day who had recently arrived from Germany and he told me the pavement of which I have spoken has proved to be a complete success. That it is not changed by cold or hot weather, and that it wears well even under the heaviest teaming —Interview in Chicago Tribune

A Blind Black Eel

Mr V N Edwards, of the United States fish commission, has obtained from Cuttyhunk pond a very singular eel The eyes are entirely concealed under the skin and the color is uniformly dark, almost black In form and proportions it is like the common eel, and may prove to be merely a dark colored blind example of this species Trout and other fish become dark in color as a result of blindness and this may be another illustration of a phenomenon which is often observed by fish culturists The length of the specimen is about thirteen inches —Forest and Stream

Everybody Was Mad

Nate Cook, of Brownsburg Ind , purchased an old house in which was stored a photographer's outfit People curiously inclined broke into the house and examined the pictures but carried nothing away Cook was very much incensed, and he caused the arrest of eighteen or twenty of the very best people of Brownsburg, charging them with trespass The cases were afterward dismissed, but not until all Brownsburg was mad enough to wreak vengeance on everybody concerned in the prosecution.—Philadelphia Ledger

CALLED AWAY

Death of Mrs L G Hildreth at the Age of 64 Years

Some weeks ago Mrs L G Hildreth, wife of Wm S Hildreth whose home is at No 1102 East Eldorado street, went on a visit to her son, who resides at Jacksonville Mrs Hildreth has been an invalid for several years with lung trouble While at Jacksonville her disease assumed a more aggravated stage, resulting in her death on the morning of June 30, 1892

Mrs Hildreth was born in Jackson, Waldo county, Maine May 23, 1828 hence at the time of her death she was 64 years old During childhood she remained at the place of her birth Like thousands in the east, she finally came to the west, where she married Wm S. Hildreth at New Salem, Ind , January 1st, 1848 Since then she has had a varied experience, in the school room and on the farm in the States of Missouri and Illinois

Mrs Hildreth was an ardent, intelligent and cultivated christian woman She had keen and discriminating intellectual perception During all of her protracted illness, her face was a perpetual revelation of sunshine and cheer, and her words a revelation of faith and hope I visited her quite frequently, and never without gaining encouragement for life's battle She took a lively interest in the new studies and in the new light, by which we are enabled to read with more intelligence the Hebrew and New Testament writings, and the newer problems that are given this age for solution

But from her loved ones and her earthly home, she has passed out to the larger life, and beyond the impingment of earthly pain and care Her body will be laid to rest—will be consigned to its mother earth—on Saturday morning at Litchfield, Ill , where she formerly made her home, and there she shall lie, the blessed mother, with her arms folded above her pulseless heart, not carved in marble by the hand of man, but formed in dust by the power of God No one will come to that peaceful abode to hold her by the hand and with delicate fingers to smooth her hair She wife and mother has gone beyond the blandishments of earthly friendships She needs not us, however much we may need her She will quietly await the coming of her loved ones Her larger seeing which came in getting rid of earthly hindrances will explain many of the problems that in time seemed insolvable Longfellow in ' Hyperion felt the need of rising even through death to larger things He says

Dear beauteous death the jewel of the just
Shining no where but in the dark
What mysteries lie beyond thy dust
Could man but out look that mark

May the pause occasioned by her death hush in the hearts of the dear ones left behind the world's clamor till they shall hear the words of the wife's and mother's best friend, the man Christ Jesus C

State Republican Clubs

Mr W W Tracy, of Springfield chairman of the Illinois republican league clubs, says there will be a league convention early in August and by that time there will be 1000 clubs in the state The membership will average at least 100 to the club so that by the time the convention meets there will be 100,000 active working Republicans in the league There were 868 clubs in the league in 1888 and it is expected that 1 000 will be organized easily this year by reason of the plan having become better known and the natural growth of the party

Music in the Schools

The fourth biennial convention of the Illinois Music Teachers' Association ended at Quincy last night The following officers were elected President H S Perkins, Chicago Secretary, F G Gleason Chicago Treasurer J J Hallstadt Chicago A resolution was adopted and a committee appointed to urge the State Board of Education to adopt a thorough course of music for the public schools

ELECTION QUESTION AT ISSUE

Interesting Point Raised as to the Australian Law

An interesting question regarding the new Australian ballot law has been raised at Plano, Ill The facts, which have been already published, are that at the election of an alderman in a certain ward of the town the license people nominated a candidate and his name was duly printed on the ticket in the regular way The anti-license citizens of the ward made no nomination, but when the day of the election came they all turned out at the polls scratched off the name of the candidate printed on the ticket and wrote on the ticket the name of an anti license man who was elected The question now raised is, did the voters who thus scratched out the printed name on the ticket and wrote a name in its place comply with the law, and were their votes legally counted? As the city council, like the legislature is the judge of the election and qualification of its members, and as the office involved is a small one, the question in this particular instance might not get into the courts, but for the fact that the point is an important one, and it will undoubtedly reach the supreme court sooner or later There are those who hold that no candidate can be voted for whose name is not printed on the ticket that, although a voter may scratch his ticket, he must make a choice of candidates from those whose names are regularly printed on the ticket

Reed Green, chairman of the house committee on elections, which framed the Australian ballot law, is understood to take this view of the matter Attorney General Hunt, however, says that the law does not forbid such a proceeding, and he holds that a voter has a right to vote for anyone he chooses, no matter whether the name of such person is printed on the ticket or not. Said the attorney general yesterday "The right of an elector to vote for anyone whom he may choose is a right which will not be restricted, unless the law does so in express terms The Australian ballot law does not in terms restrict this right. On the contrary, I think section 23 of the act quite clearly preserves this right If it did not, this right would not be destroyed by so construing the law as to make it effect that result, unless such construction was necessary to effect the purpose of the law "

Section 23, referred to by M Hunt says ' Section 23—On receipt of his ballot the voter shall forthwith and without leaving the inclosed space retire alone to one of the voting booths so provided, and shall prepare his ballot by making in the appropriate margin or place a cross (x) opposite the name of the candidate of his choice for each office to be filled, or by writing in the name of the candidate of his choice in a blank space on said ticket, making a cross (x) opposite thereto "

Those who hold that the writing in of a name is illegal contend that the word 'candidate' in the clause "or by writing in the name of the candidate of his choice,' must be construed as referring to a candidate whose name is printed on the ticket

The Stove Works Lost to Lincoln

The Troy Stove Works, which have been seeking a location in the west for their plant, have decided not to come here for the reason that our city is too well supplied with professional kickers kicking against the city, kicking against the paving, no matter how the ordinance is passed No wonder people who are seeking investments, new homes or manufacturing enterprises, give our city the go by If they are not at the head and front of everything that comes up, no matter how much it might help the city as a whole they will raise the cry of fraud and soon throw a wet blanket over it The most of this class never pay one cent of taxes, but that does not hold them back —Lincoln News

HOW!

To Detect Impurities in Baking Powder.

A Practical Test Made in the Presence of a Republican Representative

The question which attracts the greatest interest nowadays among the housewives of the country is how to detect the adulteration in baking powders This is of great importance, for upon it depends whether or not the resulting products are good wholesome food Much discussion has been indulged in concerning the merits and the demerits of the various baking powders placed on the market So important has become this subject, that various state legislatures have deemed it imperative to enact laws requiring manufacturers of alum and ammonia baking powders to have them labeled as such, in order that the unwary might not be deceived

Any practical and easy method of detecting these deleterious ingredients must certainly commend itself to the wise and careful housewives of the country The Price Baking Powder Company of Chicago, whose goods have become so popular on account of their purity and strength, have hit upon an original and easy plan for this purpose

A number of intelligent young ladies were given lessons in chemistry, and were taught a simple test which would reveal instantly and beyond a doubt, the presence of alum and ammonia in baking powder, and they were then sent out to show the test to the consumer

One of these called at the REPUBLICAN office this morning and in order fairly to try the honesty and conclusiveness of this test we prepared samples of the different brands of baking powder marked them so that the kinds were known only to ourselves, and handed them to her to test The lady made a simple and effective test pointing out and demonstrating the different qualities of the various brands

The test showed conclusively that Dr Price's Cream Baking Powder was composed of straight cream of tartar and soda, and that it is entirely free from alum, ammonia or other injurious adulterations

We are thoroughly convinced of the honesty and efficacy of this test, and hope all our housekeepers will admit these ladies and see their experiment They do not sell, nor take orders, as the best grocers keep their goods in stock We would add further that the Price Baking Powder Co has for more than forty years made the highest test powder—THE STANDARD— to which no other manufacturer has attained

Notice to Farmers.

The Illinois Board of World's Fair Commissioners are desirous of receiving an exhibit of the Agricultural products of this district To do this it is desirous that every farmer who has a good field of grain should gather a sample of the grain in the straw, sample not to be less than 6 inches in diameter cure the same well, in the shade if possible, and send the sample to headquarters for exhibition purposes They would like samples of every variety of grain and grass grown in this district After the field of grain is threshed they want samples of the seed not less than ½ bushel The grain the commission is willing to pay for, also pay for the bag in which the grain is sent

They would suggest that all grain and grass cured in the straw be securely sewed up in in muslin so that the light will not bleach the straw Any questions you may want to ask about the shipment of grain will be cheerfully answered by S W Johns Commissioner of Illinois State Board, World's Fair, for the 14th District, Decatur Ill

Apparently Waking Up

Apparently the trustees of the University of Illinois have begun to grasp the full meaning of the educational awakening throughout the west The great progress made by the state universities of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri and Indiana may now be equaled, if not surpassed, by the Illinois institution The trustees at their meeting this week took a stand for large advancement, which is commendable because it represents the winning policy The plans for new buildings and other improvements outlined at that meeting give promise of success worthy of the greatest state of the Mississippi Valley

BIG AS A BLANKET

The Ticket to be Voted in the Fall will be of Enormous Size

For the first time in the history of Illinois the ballots to be voted next November will contain the complete list of candidates from president down including the name of each elector and the Australian system will then receive a thorough test In addition to a proposal for an amendment to the constitution of the state of Illinois, the ticket will contain the names of the candidates for president and vice president for at least four political parties and the names of twenty four electors for each of the same parties and at least four sets of candidates for state offices, eight candidates for congressmen at large, four district congressmen, four state senators five or more representatives in the legislature, four members of the state board of equalization and three or four complete lists of county candidates The ballot will be in blanket form and will be voted under the so called Australian system It will be a big ticket and enlarged ballot boxes will be required at all the voting precincts If all the names that appear on the ballot were printed one after another with usual amount of space between the names, the ticket would be nearly ten feet long The tickets will be furnished at the expense of the counties, and nothing but the official ballot goes in the box

Importations of Clydesdales

The American Clydesdale association is receiving an unusually large number of applications this season from breeders of Clydesdale horses residing in Canada for custom house certificates required under the late ruling of the treasury department for the free importation into the United States of stallions and mares for breeding purposes Colonel Charles F Mills, secretary of the Clydesdale association, states that there are a large number of mares owned in Canada having the number of recorded top crosses prescribed by the treasury department to entitle their produce to free entry The decrease, under the new regulations, in the number of importations of Clydesdale horses from Scotland will be more than balanced by the additional number received from Canada

Exciting Times at the Homestead Steel Works

THE MEN PRACTICALLY IN POSSESSION

And Resisting the Efforts of the Owners to Place Officers in Charge of Their Property Promising to Guard It Themselves

HOMESTEAD, July [illegible]—The first aggressive [illegible] in an attempt on the part of the Carnegie Steel Co. to start their mills [illegible] to the wishes of the [illegible] was made yesterday but was unsuccessful. The mill workers [illegible] at every point. Yesterday morning the Carnegie Steel Co. applied to Sheriff McCleary of Allegheny county for help in guarding the Homestead property and [illegible] men who they claim are willing and anxious to go to work [illegible] from [illegible] strikers.

Sheriff McCleary [illegible] by ex-sheriffs [illegible] Cluly came from Pittsburgh [illegible] to the strikers headquarters announcing that they [illegible] the Carnegie [illegible] and would [illegible] the work [illegible] [illegible]

When the crowd reached Eighth avenue they were joined by a larger crowd all pressing toward Munhall and the sixty foot street was hardly able to hold them.

In the meantime the deputies in charge of ex-Sheriff Cluly were having [illegible] the Munhall [illegible] [illegible] Sheriff Cluly advanced [illegible] said: "Men [illegible] to fall back and give us entrance to the property of the Carnegie Steel Co. which we have been detailed to guard."

There was silence for a moment when one of the workers stepped forward and said: "We cannot permit you to enter the mill. The mill property is not in danger nor does it require your guardianship and we think that should we admit you to this mill, it would be against our interests, so we will not allow you to enter. Should you wish to return to Pittsburgh we will see that you get safely out of town."

Acting Sheriff Cluly after a few moments consultation with his aids said: "We will go back to Pittsburgh and will depend on you for a safe escort out of town."

A large guard of workingmen formed about the deputies and started toward Amalgamated headquarters where the men were to be kept until the little steamer [illegible] could be summoned to transport the deputies to Glenwood.

There was but little demonstration. Half an hour later the march to the [illegible] quarter [illegible] distant was begun. Each deputy was escorted by a workman and none were permitted to [illegible]. Not a loud word was spoken. Cannot Act on the Matter

PITTSBURGH, July [illegible]—Mr. Brennan said last night regarding the request of the Homestead workers for an injunction preventing the sending of deputy sheriffs to Homestead that nothing can be done in the matter as the court has no authority to grant an injunction to prohibit the peace officers from [illegible] property.

HE BEAT THEM ALL

And Sacrificed His Life to His Folly

CAMBRIDGE, O., July [illegible]—Monday night [illegible] Albright aged [illegible] stepped into [illegible] hardware store and purchased four half-pound 40 per cent dynamite cartridges. There was a grand pyrotechnic display in the public square at the time and Albright probably had an idea that he could outdo the other celebrants in the [illegible]. He came out on the middle of Main street and lighted the fuse [illegible] of the cartridges. It exploded in his hand and the other three went off in his pocket at the same time and blew his body to atoms. Fragments of his flesh were found plastered on the wall of buildings in the vicinity. Many people were in the [illegible] and just how such an explosion [illegible] place in a crowd of that size without mangling scores of people is a mystery.

CHAIRMAN CAMPBELL

Of the Republican National Campaign Committee

WILL SOON TENDER HIS RESIGNATION,

Being Unable to Adjust His Private Business So as to Give the Time Necessary to the Work of the Committee.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Chairman Campbell of the national republican committee arrived in the city yesterday on the noon train from Chicago. He was met at the depot by Mr. Michener, the president's personal friend. They immediately took a carriage for the Arlington hotel. Mr. Campbell did not register but went directly to the room of Commissioner of Land Office Carter, who is also secretary of the national republican committee, where Mr. Carter, Michener and Campbell had a consultation lasting about a half hour.

After this conference Mr. Campbell gave out the following statement:

"When I was selected chairman of the national committee it was with the distinct understanding that my business engagements then pending might render it impossible for me to act in that capacity. This contingency was fully understood by the committee and others directly interested. Since the adjournment of the committee I have been unable to adjust my affairs so as to render it practicable for me to act as chairman and I now, therefore, as I reserved the right to do, announce that I will not serve. Under the authority vested in me by the national committee I will probably announce the executive committee within the next few days and that committee will meet at an early date. At that meeting I will formally tender my resignation and my successor will be then elected.

"My successor will be chosen by the executive committee as authorized by resolution adopted by the national committee."

Herbert Starr of Macon visited friends here over Sunday.

The storm Friday night destroyed a great deal of property here. Mr. Waeuser's barn was blown from its foundation and Wm. Collier's [illegible] was unroofed. Trees, corn cribs, etc., were damaged in different parts of the county.

Quite a number of families from here went fishing in the Marribone Creek the Fourth.

Thos. McClure, of St. Louis visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. C. McClure over Sunday.

Misses Maggie, Ella and Mary Mulvey, of Decatur spent the Fourth with their parents here.

CASNER

The farmers are all smiling on account of the big rain Saturday night.

The most of the people around Casner all went to Cerro Gordo to spend the Fourth. They all reported a good time, having several good speakers. One of them was Mr. Henry Gibbs, who interested the crowd with a short speech on politics.

It was reported that a storm passed through Mt. Zion last Saturday night which blew down trees and hedges. Part of it went through La Place and leveled the wheat and oats to the ground.

Cards are out announcing the wedding of Mr. John Pisley and Miss Carrie Freelock. I suppose they are going to have a big supper as Mr. John Slou is going to Cerro Gordo after a load of cabbage.

Rev. Nots had a surprise party on one of his daughters Monday night. He surprised his two other daughters by giving each a fine Bible.

There was no preaching at the Christian church Sunday, as the preacher failed to come. Singing was held in the evening.

BLUE MOUND

The Fourth of July celebration was the pleasantest and most enjoyable of any similar celebration or picnic ever held here. The day was fine and pleasant, roads splendid, no dust nor mud. Large crowd of people, good speaking and music. The day closing with a brilliant display of fireworks in the evening. The speakers were Hon. D. F. Kellar, Hon. W. W. Weedon and Rev. J. W. Strawn. No accidents during the entire day—except a runaway team by which a buggy was overturned and a couple of ladies thrown out, but not injured.

A very hard storm of rain and wind occurred here about [illegible] o'clock Saturday evening, the wind especially being very violent and causing considerable damage. Gus Reiser [illegible] miles south had his barn blown down, utterly demolished, five head of horses in the barn escaping without injury. Ephraim Vandeventer just across the road from Reiser has a very large strong barn which was blown off the foundation a distance of 16 feet, but not materially damaged. Two corn cribs were in town belonging to W. B. Newbegin were demolished and his dwelling house was slightly damaged. Several cribs belonging to Hill Brothers [illegible] miles west were also blown down. Minor Stivers [illegible] miles northwest had three valuable horses killed by lightning. Several persons suffered slight damage in way of outbuildings, trees and etc., being wrecked or blown down.

W. B. Green of St. Louis spent the Fourth with his family here.

Deputy Sheriffs and Laboring Men Exchange Shots

[Special to the REPUBLICAN.]

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 6. Reports from Homestead, Pa., say that a force of 300 deputy sheriffs landed from barges, towed by a steamer, this morning, and were met by workmen and a battle ensued in which several on both sides were killed and a number wounded. The captain of the steamer was killed. The oil was turned into the river and set on fire, and the boats were compelled to retreat. The excitement is intense. The workmen are determined and the situation is serious. The workmen are well armed.

Advices are to the effect that the Homestead people desire to protect their vast property, while the workmen out of employment want to do guard duty. The company refuse to allow any interference with their affairs.

HE TRIED EVERYTHING ELSE

After a man has tried every remedy for a cold he generally discovers that the best thing he can take is Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure. This is the experience of William Wallace, with the Cross Press & Sign Co., at 210 Illinois Avenue Chicago. He says: "I had a bottle in the house but thought nothing of it until I caught a terrible cold. I took everything else but grew worse steadily until I could not speak. My wife said to me why do you not try Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure? By that time my voice was wholly gone and I could hardly whisper except with great pain. I got the bottle at four o'clock Sunday afternoon and commenced taking it, and at bed time I could talk and the next morning I was as well as I ever was in my life. It cured my little girl of a severe attack of croup. Under these circumstances I have no hesitancy in recommending it to the public. I certainly think it is the best remedy for the throat and lungs that I ever saw. If your druggist will not get you this great remedy, write to us. Large bottles 50 cents, small ones 25 cents.
